Most of us see our church buildings as places to gather on Sunday; seldom do we think of them as places to _____ in preparation for deployment. As long as our experience as the church is limited to meeting in a church (building), there's little reason to engage in meaningful training. We need to rethink our _____ so we can rethink our response. (Page 68)

Like officers, Christians are called to _____. The truth of Christianity is the cure for what's killing all of us; it's the very source of spiritual life. Like all important cures, the purity of Christian truth claims must be protected. A contaminated cure can be _____. (Page 69)

God's not afraid of your _____. He's raised an army of case makers to help you sort out the truth, and He's called you to be part of that growing team. You'll never be able to defend what you believe or help young believers if you haven't armed yourself with the truth. Get _____; time is short. (Page 84)

When the pressure is on, we _____
_____. (Page 94)

Case Making Course Session 25 (Investigating Christian Case-Making) - Training to Share the Truth

If you have no intention of leaving the church building, there's no point in _____ for the world outside the building. There's no point in _____ if you have no intention of leaving the safety of your building.

Stop _____, start _____!

_____ - Challenge yourself to expose your weakness.

_____ - Expect more from yourself than you think you can handle.

_____ - Learn the truth and how to articulate it.

_____ - Deploy into the battlefield of ideas.

_____ - Tend to our wounds and model the nature of Jesus.

The more often you _____ an action, the more likely you will be accurate under pressure.

Do _____!
